MARICO BANGLADESH

27 YEARS OF EMPOWERING CHANGE THROUGH INNOVATION

For over 27 years, Marico Bangladesh has flourished, becoming one of the fastest-growing personal care companies in the nation.

The journey began in 1999 with Parachute Coconut Oil, a symbol of purity and trust that soon set new standards for quality and became the market leader in branded coconut oils.

From these beginnings, Marico has evolved from a single-category pioneer into a diverse, multi-category organization that connects with consumers across their lives. Today, its portfolio includes universally trusted brands in hair care, male grooming, skincare, hygiene, edible oils, and baby care, each designed to meet the changing aspirations of Bangladeshi consumers.

At the heart of Marico's success lies consumer-driven innovation and a deep understanding of the diverse needs of its audience. This strong commitment has made Marico a trusted household name across Bangladesh, known for quality, consistency, and positive impact.

The following examples highlight Marico's consumer-focused innovations across key categories, reflecting how the company continues to lead with purpose, innovate with empathy, and grow alongside its consumers.

PARACHUTE ADVANSED SECRETS

HAIR OILING REIMAGINED

In the evolving beauty and personal care landscape, the hair oil category remains largely rooted in tradition, often perceived as a product meant for older generations or as part of a mundane care routine. While today's young consumers actively seek premium, trend-driven, and expressive beauty solutions, few hair oil brands have successfully bridged the gap between nourishment and style. The market lacked a brand that resonated with the modern, aspirational young woman, someone who sought products that not only cared for her hair but also reflected her fashion-forward identity and global beauty aspirations.

Identifying this gap, Parachute Advansed Secrets was launched to redefine the category by infusing trend appeal into nourishment, giving modern-contemporary imagery associated with age old hair oiling ritual. In the current hair oiling space, it is unthinkable to think of oiling linked to something trendy, fashionable and contemporary that is where the brand brings a refreshing shift which is making hair oiling aspirational, stylish, and relevant for young, trend-conscious women.

Designed for young women from college students to first jobbers and young professionals- the brand speaks to those who want to be a global citizen. Always exploring new trends and products, they value brands that offer both nourishment and trend appeal. Highly active on platforms like Instagram, YouTube, and TikTok, they follow global influencers, shares own beauty routines.

Parachute Secrets believes nourished hair is the foundation of every great style. Its tagline, "Stunning Hair, Trending You," perfectly captures this essence. The brand offers four variants: Almond (for Damage Repair & Smooth Hair), Blackseed (for Long & Shiny Hair), Rosemary (for Voluminous & Strong Hair) and Onion (for Hair Growth). Each variant is crafted with globally trending ingredients for effective nourishment and fashionable appeal, keeping in mind that different types of hair have unique needs. With that ideology, Parachute Advansed Secrets has created socially curated, influencer-led campaigns that celebrate modern beauty and individuality, making it the go-to brand for the trend-loving generation.

PARACHUTE ADVANSED EXTRA CARE

PACKAGING THAT REDEFINES HAIR FALL CARE

Hair fall is one of the most common and emotionally distressing concerns, especially among women. It impacts appearance, confidence, and self-image which is making the search for an effective, natural solution deeply personal. The target consumers are women experiencing hair fall who actively seek trustworthy, nature-based remedies that deliver visible results and strengthen hair from the roots.

In the hair oil category, it is seen that most brands fail to establish an immediate emotional connection. Pack designs often highlight ingredients or beauty cues instead of addressing the real anxiety around hair fall. As a result, consumers find it difficult to relate or identify which product genuinely understands their worry. Moreover, most packs look and function similarly, offering little differentiation or reason to switch. This created an opportunity for a brand to stand out with packaging that clearly communicates the problem and presents a solution with both emotional appeal and functional efficiency.

Parachute Advansed Extra Care began its journey with a vision to solve real problems faced by women struggling with hair fall, especially those who value natural solutions. Staying true to this purpose, the brand introduced a breakthrough packaging innovation that combines emotional relevance with functional ease, setting new standards for the hair oil category.

The new pack features a Root Applicator - a smart tool designed to apply oil directly to the scalp, ensuring deeper nourishment and efficient, mess-free application. This innovation not only enhances efficacy but also gives the brand a strong point of difference in a crowded market. Based on study regular use helps reduce hair fall in just 21 days. To strengthen on-shelf visibility, the monocarton was refreshed to show a girl frustrated by hair fall on the upper panel and the solution below with the claim "Reduces hair fall in 21 days." Through this blend of empathy, innovation, and impactful design, Parachute Advansed Extra Care redefined what packaging can achieve in building relevance and trust.

PARACHUTE JUST FOR BABY

100% SAFE, NATURAL NOURISHING BABY CARE

The baby care market is incredibly sensitive, as mothers always want the best and safest products for their babies. When it comes to their little ones, only the most trusted and gentle care will do. This strong desire for safety and reliability has led to a growing demand for baby care products that are completely safe and free from harmful side effects.

Mothers want products they can trust, backed by international certifications and expert approval. They need reassurance that the products they use on their babies are the very best. This need for safety and reliability created a space for a brand that truly understands these concerns.

In 2019, Marico introduced Parachute Just For Baby, designed with 100% safe ingredients. Certified by Made Safe™ and Australian Allergy Tested™, the product is formulated with the natural goodness of ingredients like olive oil and almond milk which is gentle and nourishing for babies' delicate skin. This commitment to safety and quality quickly won the trust of mothers everywhere. Parachute Just For Baby became a favorite, recommended by millions of mothers globally for its pure, safe, and effective care.

Marico launched Parachute Just For Baby and entered the baby care market with a breakthrough innovation like the Baby Soft Touch Bottle. The Baby Soft Touch Bottle is uniquely designed with a gentle, ergonomic shape that makes it easier to apply the product smoothly on your baby's skin. This bottle helps the baby care formula spread more evenly, ensuring the ingredients work effectively during application.

As a result, Parachute Just For Baby provides quicker relief from dryness, irritation, and skin discomfort, giving babies the comfort and soothing care they deserve. The gentle formula ensures your baby's skin stays soft, nourished, and protected, offering the ultimate care after a long day.
